METHODS PEASANTS HAVE BECOME INDEPENDENT

St. Petersburg, Feb. 16,-Agrarian reform begins to bear good fruit. It was the greatest work of Peter A. Dmitri Bogroff assassinated in the zar's very presence at a gay performance in the municipal theater at Kieff last September.

"While quelling a bloody revolution Stolypin brought about a peaceful one," say those today who were the premier's bitterest enemies.

His great plan of letting the peas ants hold land at perpetuity, which Stolypin inaugurated in 1906, given land of their own to 32,000,000 square miles in Eropean Russia and tures are proving as good or a little 7,500,900 square miles in Siberia. And the face of the land has been changed. The peaasnt now lives on his property instead of miles away. as under the old communal system. when all the land was redistributed every three years.

Besides the owner works intensively now, for he takes pride in his land. Here again Stolypin's far seeing We had a taste Saturday and Sunday brain came into play. He planned MONEY. of what can be expected this month. that the moujik should be a speculator in the world's grain trade. He opened hundreds of farming schools FEBRUARY CLEAN-UP SALE and hundreds more are being founded. Besides Stolypin arranged that money should be advanced to the terest 41/2 per cent, something unknown here, hitherto. he Imperial bank builds granaries and keeps the peasant informed on grain prices by posting official quotations, several times a week, in railroad stations, ings and markets. Co-presative stores have been opened in the markets; the peasant can buy agricultural machines on easy terms; mechanical experts give instruction gratis to farmers who desire it.

The results are as obvious as ben eficent. A sturdy, hard working yeoman class is slowly but surely growing in Russia; this in six years, and district, with the subway, elevated the plan will not be worked out comand surface cars at hand.
